Background:

- The 2017 PA Tax Amnesty was authorized by Act 84 of 2016 to provide an estimated $100 million in net revenue for the General Fund.
- Of the $3.47 billion eligible for tax amnesty, $1.1 billion is delinquent from 2005 and earlier, $889 million is under appeal, and $2.2 billion is delinquent tax with the rest interest and penalty.
- The PA Tax Amnesty program does not include unemployment compensation (administered by the PA Department of Labor and Industry) or any taxes administered by another state, local government – including property taxes – or the federal government.
- There are 862,598 taxpayers eligible for the program; 680,090 (79 percent) are from Pennsylvania with $2.1 billion in back taxes and 182,508 (21 percent) are out of state with $1.4 billion in back taxes.
- Over 65 percent of back taxes are corporation tax, employer withholding tax, and sales tax.
- Participants who become tax delinquent within the next two years must pay all waived penalties and interest.
- Pennsylvania conducted previous tax amnesties in 1995-1996 that collected $93 million and in 2010 that collected $254 million.
